Coaching Recap | 10/13 Eastern Time

With Bea (Client Success Manager) and Arque (Success Coach)

Where we stand: Most calls today ended at the gatekeeper. More dials alone won't change that. A sharper first 20 seconds will.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

- You know the script. Now own it. Prospects can hear when you're reading. One told us "you're too vague." That was the script talking, not you.
- Every gatekeeper answer is a clue. "Wrong office" means ask for the right number. "She's busy" means ask when she's free. Treat it as a door, not a wall.
- Every extra word is a reason to say no. Say less at the front desk. No pitch, no AI, and mention Ken only if they ask.
- An email is easy to ignore. A callback time isn't. Go for a transfer or a time first. Send an email only when they ask for it.
- Your voice is all they get. Energy, pace and a smile come through the phone. Low energy sounds like low confidence.

MARK

Strengths

- Your tone sounds like you belong on the call.
- Polite and persistent, without sounding pushy.
- When a gatekeeper opened the door, you walked through and got the direct line and email.

To work on

- "Wrong office" is not a dead end.
  "Which office is he in? Do you have that number?"
- Ask for time, not email.
  "When's the best time to catch him today?"
- Confirm before you give up.
  "Just to confirm, is this [Company]?"
- Change up your lines. Repeating the same sentence every call makes you sound recorded.

G-ANNE

Strengths

- A warm, polite voice that gatekeepers respond to.
- You asked for a callback time in the mock. That's the right instinct.
- You owned your feedback today. That's how fast learners grow.

To work on

- Nothing to sell at the front desk.
  Instead of "grow faster using AI," say: "It's about [Prospect]'s practice."
- Skip "Do you have two minutes?" Go straight to your question.
- "Not interested" is not the end.
  "What are you focused on with your practice right now?"
- Know the four tracks well. If you can explain them without the script, you can handle any question.
- Log every call. Your tracker is how you see your own progress.

KEY TAKEAWAYS: 5 RULES FOR THIS WEEK

1. Listen first. Answer what they said, then go back to your goal.
2. Ask, don't tell. Questions get you through. Pitches get you hung up on.
3. Time beats email. Leave every call with a time, a number or a transfer.
4. Your words, same meaning. The playbook is a guide, not a script to recite.
5. Truth only. Nothing you say should need explaining later.

THIS WEEK'S CHALLENGE

- Leave every gatekeeper call that doesn't transfer with a callback time or a direct line.
- Say "Do you have two minutes?" zero times.
- Post one line that worked in the group chat every day.
- Next session: explain each of the four tracks in one sentence, without the script.

ACTION ITEMS

Who	Action	When
Mark and G-Anne	Log every call, tag the outcome in GHL, and count follow-ups per lead.	Daily
Mark and G-Anne	30 minutes on the playbook: the four tracks and why each line is said.	Daily
Mark and G-Anne	When someone asks to be removed, mark Do Not Call in GHL right away. This includes the four contacts from the 10/9 to 10/12 calls.	Today
Mark	Write 5 natural ways to ask, "When's the best time to reach them?"	Next session
G-Anne	Rewrite your opening and gatekeeper lines in your own words, with no pitch words.	Next session
Mark and G-Anne	Stuck on a line? Post it in the group chat and we'll fix it together.	Anytime

You're closer than it feels. One strong first 20 seconds can turn a gatekeeper call into a booked meeting.
